

HALFDAN RYDBECK

Profile

Expert in applied bioinformatics with 8+ years of experience in providing transparent and reproducible solutions for diverse areas of biological and medical research. Deep knowledge of underlying issues in need of bioinformatics support. Experience includes genetic epidemiology of rare diseases, integrative omics analysis of data from cancer tissue and immune cells, microarray analysis, preprocessing to final analysis of NGS output. The integrative analysis, performed during phd, encompassed, gene expression, copy number variation, promoter methylation and histone occupancy data. Integrative analysis of proteomics, clinical and brain imaging data. Focused on keeping at the forefront of the latest within computational omics analysis. I have emotional intelligence, strong communication skills and am a great teammate. I am dynamic and work very hard to achieve the intended result which has been decided from the start on time. I am not pretentious. I speak my mind and make it safe for others to do so. My colleagues say about me that I am hardworking, joyful and problemsolving.

Objective

To further develop my skills in developing reproducible bioinformatics pipelines and contribute to improved insight into cancer development and treatment through the development of supporting computational infrastructure and algorithms. To further develop my knowledge of and skills in applying AI and ML in pipelines. To share attained knowledge.

PhD bioinformatics

Medical faculty, University of Oslo

📍 Oslo, Norway

- PhD project with thesis title: Integrative epigenome analysis¹. Scripts developed in R and The Genomic Hyperbrowser was used to study the dependencies and select genes, based on genomic, epigenomic and transcriptomic alterations in samples from osteosarcoma and immune cells. The gene expression, promoter methylation and DNA copy number data were acquired by oligonucleotide microarray technology, and the histone modification data was acquired by technology based on chromatin immune precipitation and next generation sequencing, ChIP-seq.
- Developed an R package for clustering of genomic tracks.
